Wharton Undergraduate Student Clubs and Sponsored Student Organizations

Introductory Guide
2015-2016
Dear Wharton Students,

Welcome to another exciting year for clubs at Wharton! Thank you for taking the time to learn about how our clubs – comprised of undergraduate students from Wharton and Penn overall – enhance the student life experience throughout your time at Wharton and Penn. Through full-day conferences, weekly events, general body meetings, on-campus recruiting facilitation, and more, our clubs and club leaders provide endless opportunities for you to engage and explore your interests within Wharton. From marketing consulting to stock pitching to treks to New York City, clubs serve to educate outside the classroom while also building community and camaraderie.

This packet is a great reference to help you find which Wharton clubs and organizations is the best fit for you. We strongly encourage you to attend Clubbing Night, August 26th, 5-8PM to talk with club representatives and find out how to get involved, attend initial general body meetings and see what communities you identify with, and overall have fun! If you don’t want to join anything yet, no problem - wait until Spring or join in another semester.

We hope that you will find this packet of information useful as you begin to explore how you will engage the Wharton club community. The Wharton Council oversee this body of clubs and we hope to serve as your resource as you find your place at Wharton. Please do not hesitate to reach out to us or the Wharton Undergraduate Division with any questions or concerns!

See you at Clubbing Night!

The Wharton Council – whartoncouncil.org
The Wharton Council’s mission is to foster a more complete co-curricular experience for the entire Wharton undergraduate community. Our mission has two parts: clubs and traditions. The Wharton Council supports our clubs through funding, recognition and events such as the Wharton Undergraduate Leadership Forum and End of Year Club Awards Night. We also foster community through our school-wide social events called Traditions such as the Business of Life Lecture, Hostile Takeover: Wharton’s Game of Assassins and the monthly Wonderful Wednesdays at Wharton.

The Wharton Council recruits six members from the freshman class at the start of each spring semester. We will host an information session in December and another in January. We have an application, two meet-and-greets and two rounds of interviews.

Our mission is to maintain and increase the academic success of African-American students on the undergraduate level; to increase communication between the student body and the University administration; to establish and maintain relationships between students and the external corporate community; and to represent the African-American interest in business or business-related issues for undergraduates at the University of Pennsylvania.

Structure

BWUA goal is to enhance the college experience of our 250 members by providing them with the opportunities to become well-rounded individuals through community service, mentorship, academic development, social events, and professional development activities alongside our 29 corporate sponsors. The organization has 15 board members (5 Executive & 10 Appointed)

Events

Howard E. Mitchell Memorial Conference (HEMM): 2-day Conference consisting of an Alumni Reception, Career Fair with ~20 companies, Professional Panel Discussion and Keynote Luncheon. Students gain great exposure to a variety of corporations in the Financial Services, Consulting, Technology and Retail industries.

Galvanizing Adolescents Toward a Legacy of Achievement (GALA): Black Tie GALA that honors a local non-profit organization that BWUA plans to partner with for the upcoming year. During the GALA there is a keynote speaker and student group performances.

Freshman Luncheon: Luncheon held to introduce incoming freshmen to the club and what we can offer to them during their time at Penn. Event includes a keynote speaker and catered meal.

How to Join

You can get involved with our organization by visiting our website at www.blackwharton.com or emailing us at blackwharton@gmail.com.

For more information or questions regarding BWUA, contact Simon Tesfalul, President:

tesfalul@wharton.upenn.edu
We host social, professional, and corporate events throughout the year for all M&Ts to enjoy. These events range from study breaks to lunches with alumni to course planning workshops. We also design M&T apparel so that M&Ts can show their spirit on campus.

Structure

Our club board is divided into three committees: corporate, social, and professional. Each committee is composed of a single vice president and several board members. We also have a president and executive vice president who are responsible for finances and external affairs as well as for the oversight of each committee. The general body is composed of the M&T students, approximately 200 in total.

Events

SIG Poker Tournament: Sponsored by the Susquehanna International Group, members of the corporate committee work alongside SIG employees to organize and execute a poker tournament open to all Penn Students.

Brown Bag Lunches: Lunch meetings where students get the opportunity to have intimate discussions with some of the most influential members in the technology and business.

M&T Thanksgiving Dinner: The entire M&T community gathers for an evening of food and fellowship. Students enjoy a traditional Thanksgiving meal along with several holiday-themed activities.

How to Join

Applications will be sent via email to all new M&T students within the first few weeks of school. We will be recruiting board members for all three committees: corporate, social, and professional. For general body membership, please inquire with the club leaders at Clubbing Night.

For more information or questions regarding M&T Club, contact Adam Stravitz:

stravitz@wharton.upenn.edu
We aim to promote the academic study and professional practice of marketing among University of Pennsylvania students by providing a forum for students, field experts and community leaders to share their knowledge and creativity. In short, we’re the go to club for all things marketing.

Structure

MUSE currently consists of three glorious parts: the executive board, committee members, and general body members. Each committee is led by a Board member. All the cool stuff we do is at the committee level (that's you!), which means individual committee members are given responsibility, ownership, and autonomy.

Events

Consulting Branch: Every semester, MUSE partners with 5-8 businesses to provide professional consulting services. Projects range from strategic planning to tactical implementation. No prior experience or specific major necessary - we just hope that you're awesome.

Marketing, Advertising, and Retailing Conference: This annual recruiting conference connects corporate recruiters to undergraduate students so people get hired. It warms our hearts. (musepenn.org/marc2015)

MUSE E-Marketing Engagement Week (MEME): This is a weeklong conference that aims to educate students on many relevant fields within digital marketing through snazzy workshops and fascinating speakers. We'll see you there! (musepenn.org/meme)

How to Join

For more information or questions regarding MUSE, contact Adina Luo, President:

adinaluo@wharton.upenn.edu
Penn Actuarial Society

Penn Actuarial Society aims to be a resource for the actuarial community at the University of Pennsylvania and to raise awareness about and foster interest in actuarial opportunities.

Structure

We have a relatively small and flat board which is consisted of President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Membership Chair, and Marketing Chair. We are looking into forming temporary committees for certain events throughout the year to get more members involved.

Events

Actuary101: Why is actuary the best job ranked by WSJ? This event introduces what actuaries do in the real world and advices how students can better prepare themselves for this career at Penn.

Passing Dinner: PAS hosts a free dinner twice a year for members who have passed their actuarial exams. In the past, we have taken students out to restaurants in Center City, such as Buddakan and The Continental.

Company Info Sessions: Companies in different industries that offer actuarial positions come and network with PAS members. It is a great event to learn about internship opportunities offered.

How to Join

Applications for special event committee members will be due mid September. For general body membership, please inquire with the club leaders at Clubbing Night.

For more information or questions regarding PAS, contact Jade Lee, President:

pooreum@wharton.upenn.edu
Founded in 2003 and formerly known as Dzine2Show, the Penn Fashion Collective serves as a campus hub for all things related to the fashion industry. As of now, The Collective is comprised of The WALK Magazine, the first and only campus fashion magazine of its caliber, and is the engine behind twice-yearly fashion shows, as well as plays a large role in the planning and execution of Penn Fashion Week. We welcome anybody with an interest in fashion, luxury, and retail to join us!

Structure

Our club is in transition, as we are working towards become an umbrella organization in order to reflect our status as a hub for all fashion interests. We have a six-member Executive Board that oversees a larger Deputy Board and general body.

Events

Fall/Spring Fashion Show: Each semester, Dzine2Show puts on a fashion show, featuring student made apparel and clothing from local boutiques

Penn Fashion Week: Every Spring, The Collective partners with Wharton Retail Club and Delta Sigma Pi to put on Penn Fashion Week - a week filled with speaker events, giveaways, and culminating with our Spring Fashion Show

Internship Panel: Club members with experience interning in the Fashion industry sit on a moderated panel and answer questions both members and non-members may have about getting their dream internship and fulfilling their potential.

How to Join

For more information or questions regarding the Penn Fashion Collective, contact:

Penn Fashion Collective President: Maha Subramaniam [smaha@wharton.upenn.edu]

The WALK Editor-in-Chief: Laura Petro [lpetro@sas.upenn.edu]
Our mission is to make use of our acquired business skills to identify and solve operational problems of international NGOs in developing countries, move them towards sustainability, and thereby enhance their long-term social impact.

Structure

PIIC offers two opportunities for involvement:

General Body Member: You are trained and then consult off-site (from campus) for NGOs around the world and join one of our 3 committees. Project Development corresponds with NGOs to plan our on-site (travel abroad) and off-site (from campus) consulting projects and their respective trainings. Impact Assessment takes data from our past consulting projects, manages our knowledge bank, and makes recommendations to modify our consulting practices. Marketing & Events handles campus communications and alumni relations as well as coming up with innovative ways to illustrate our global social impact. As a General Body Member, you are guaranteed a spot to be an On-Site Summer Consultant if you choose to participate.

On-Site Summer Consultant: You are trained and then participate in international summer consulting projects. Student teams of 4-6 people spend three weeks at the beginning of the summer working with an NGO in their host country completing a consulting project. Consulting NGO locations and project scope areas for Summer 2016 will be released in January.

How to Join

We recruit from all schools, years, and majors. Recruiting is in September for General Body Members and in January for On-Site Summer Consultants. Like us on Facebook, visit www.pibv.org, and come see us at the various activity fairs around campus to learn more!

For more information or questions regarding PIIC, contact Ira Ko, President:

Penn Microfinance seeks to educate and empower students through partnerships with microfinance institutions, hands-on experiences, independent research and networking.
opportunities. Penn MFC strives to be an effective social impact group by establishing partnerships with microfinance institutions around the world to work on hands-on consulting projects during the year, followed by service trips over the summer. We are also the host of the first and largest undergraduate microfinance conference in the US.

Structure

We have an 8-person board. Committees within the club are comprised of the specific project teams (Brazil, Rwanda, Indonesia, Philippines, Think Tank, and Conference). Penn Microfinance has approximately 120 active members, and 1,300 who are subscribed to our listserv.

Events

Penn Microfinance Conference: The conference is our largest event and we have held a conference every year since 2007. As part of the conference we bring in speakers to lead a discussion about various topics concerning microfinance, including one keynote speaker.

Microfinance Debate Competition: We introduce a debate topic to students a week before the event and they must create arguments for both sides of the debate. The goal of this event is to improve awareness about difficult microfinance.

Kiva Lending Event: We host a workshop to teach how to make small loans through the Kiva website.

How to Join

Applications are released after our first GBM in January. We will be recruiting students for the positions on the project teams (Brazil, Rwanda, Philippines), for the Think Tank (our research group), and for the Conference team, depending on their availability (more info to come). For general body membership, please inquire at Clubbing Night.

Penn Social Entrepreneurship Movement (PennSEM) has an ambitious mission to make Penn a leading educator in social enterprise by providing academic resources and real-world experiences for students to explore the field of social entrepreneurship. From teaching students more about social entrepreneurship through weekly discussions to immersion trips, to helping students research a field of their interest and start their own social impact initiatives, PennSEM endeavors to foster a tightly-knit community of future social entrepreneurs.

Structure
PennSEM’s Executive Board is comprised of 2 Co-Presidents and Committee Chairs for the organization’s four committees: Think Tank, Events & Trips, Consulting, and Compass Fellows. Members of each committee vary in size, with 40 active members total.

Events
Annual Social Impact Talks: A dynamic 50-minute exchange session of ideas, information and insight from three to five Penn professors. The event allows students the chance to learn about the groundbreaking theories and concepts that are shaping the future of social impact. The Talk features renowned professors bringing an eye-opening perspective on impact in multiple facets.

Joel and Lois Coleman Social Impact Lecture Series: A speaker event created to inform and inspire in the realm of social impact and social entrepreneurship. Funded by the Wharton Ethics program, the event features a distinguished leader in social enterprise to present his/her experiences in social entrepreneurship, followed by a closed dinner.

Fall/Spring Break Trips: Organized for select attendees to visit and meet founding members of social enterprises to explore the landscape of social entrepreneurship in select locations. Past locations have included San Francisco, India, and DC.

How to Join
Recruitment varies, depending on the number of active members in a given semester.

For more information or questions regarding PennSEM, contact Sherry Huang and Lauren McCann, Co-Presidents:

shh@wharton.upenn.edu or lmccann@wharton.upenn.edu
Penn Undergraduate Biotech Society (PUBS) is a student-run, professional organization dedicated to connecting students who share an avid interest in biotechnology and business.

Structure
There are three committees, each focusing on various aspects of biotechnology. The three committees are: Science and Entrepreneurship (led by Milan Savani), Finance and Venture Capital (led by Raghav Bhargava), and Consulting (led by Kartik Bhamidipati).

Events
Speaker events: learn and participate in interactive discussions with leaders in the Biotech Industry. Interact with speakers varying from scientists in a research lab to venture capitalists looking to invest in novel treatments.

Committee presentations: research and present alongside your committee members on specific aspects of the biotech industry (e.g. an emerging drug, the reasons behind the recall of a drug treatment, the financial life of a drug...)

Pro bono work with a startup biotech in Philadelphia: get first hand exposure to the life sciences and biotech industry.

How to Join
We anticipate applications to be available for submission within the first 3 weeks of the semester after PUBS has had the opportunity to host an initial introductory general body meeting. They will be due shortly afterwards, most likely within 2 weeks. As the club has been newly restructured, we will be initially recruiting primarily for committee positions. For general body membership, please inquire at Clubbing Night.

For more information or questions regarding Penn Undergraduate Biotech Society, contact Adrien Gaussen, President:

 gaussena@wharton.upenn.edu
SIC provides pro bono consulting services to social sector organizations with the aim of increasing their impact on the community. Even as we partner with socially responsible, non-profit clients and empower them to best achieve their goals, we focus on the personal and professional growth of our consultants. SIC provides undergraduate students with an invaluable opportunity to apply the frameworks and theories learnt in the classroom to solve real world problems. We believe that it is our responsibility to have a positive impact on the community we live in. Through our two-fold focus on our clients and consultants, we aim to generate the greatest amount of social impact.

Structure

The club benefits from a very flat structure. The president and 5-6 project leaders sit on the executive board. Each project leader leads a team of 4-5 student consultants in working with a particular client over the course of the semester. Some of our past clients have included the Make A Wish foundation, Urban Affairs Coalition, The Free Library of Philadelphia, and Philabundance among others.

Events

Semester projects: Each team works closely with client organizations to address strategic, operational, or financial challenges by applying the talents, skills, and insights developed in the classroom and taught during training sessions.

Training sessions: Regular training sessions are hosted by consulting firms (McKinsey, Bain, BCG) and senior SIC members every semester to foster the development of key consulting skills.

Recruitment events: Every semester we host exclusive meet-and-greets hosted by professionals from top consulting firms for club members.

How to Join

Applications will be made available early in the semester. We will host 2 info sessions and are recruiting student consultants. For more information or questions regarding SIC, contact Saanya Ojha, President:

sojha@wharton.upenn.edu
UME seeks to foster a community among undergraduates interested in pursuing careers in media and entertainment. We have professional gatherings to give students access to the vast network of Penn alumni in the entertainment industry, and we host a number of fun and interactive community building events for students. Wherever your interests may lie within the entertainment industry, UME is your red carpet into all things Media and Entertainment at Penn!

Structure
UME has 150 general body members. UME is directed by a student member board headed by the President and Vice President. General members who show active involvement have a good chance of becoming board members.

Events
Media and Entertainment Week: UME hosts 3-5 events such as guest speakers, gaming tournaments, networking lunches, and internship panels. Previous speakers include the Chairman of Walt Disney, the Director of the TriBeCa Film Festival, and the Executive Producer of the Hunger Games.

New York City Spring Career Trip: Our annual industry/alumni career trek. This spring, we visited Fox News and Warner Brothers Music Group.

Penn Student Film Festival: Showcases student films from East Coast schools as well as a selection of highly regarded films from festivals like Sundance and Tribeca.

How to Join
Applications are already available and will be due on January 18th. We will be recruiting for the following positions: Communications Chair, Marketing Chair, Member Events Co-Chair, Conferences Co-Chair, Professional Development Chair. We encourage anyone with an interest to apply! For general body membership, please enquire at Clubbing Night.

For more information or questions regarding UME, contact Gabrielle Abramowitz, President:

gabram@sas.upenn.edu
The Undergraduate Sports Business Club is dedicated to the dual purpose of informing undergraduate students about the sports industry and connecting them with jobs and internships in the field. It was founded in March 2005 after the creation of the Wharton Sports Business Initiative, a partnership among top level business leaders, Wharton faculty and students that generates and disseminates knowledge about the sports industry through educational programs, and strategic corporate partnerships.

Structure

12 Executive Board Members including the President and Executive Vice President. 3-5 Extended Board Members "Directors" ~100 active club members

Events

NYC Career Trek: This is an event that will give USBC members the opportunity to visit prominent firms and organizations in the sports industry on a more intimate level.

USBC Career Fair: This event is for Penn students who are looking for summer internships or full-time opportunities with leagues, teams, agencies, media groups, players associations, and more.

Football Analytics featuring Alec Halaby: Alec is the Special Assistant to the GM of the Philadelphia Eagles. Data analysis helps make informed strategic decisions within the sports world. Alec provides an interesting insight in how his analytical approach to scouting and evaluating player production helps provide a more empirical approach to making personnel decisions. Data analysis helps make informed strategic decisions within the sports world.

How to Join

Applications are due in December for various board positions and in January for director positions. For general body membership, please inquire with the club leaders at Clubbing Night.

For more information or questions regarding USCB, contact Andrea Pascual, President:

pascuala@wharton.upenn.edu
Undergraduate Statistics Society

Through its three-fold mission of community, academics and career-planning, the USS is a network for students to interact with not only one another, but also PhD students, professors and professionals. Our society holds events aimed at developing a community of undergraduates interested in statistics, with emphasis relating to higher education and career opportunities, as well as the furthering of its members’ interest and knowledge of statistics.

Structure
The USS is structured in three tiers. (1) Executive board: President and role specific VPs (2) Committee members: most executive board members hold a standing committee, in which committee members take ownership of a project or event. New members are welcome to become involved in committees! (3) General body members- by attending one of our events you automatically become a member!

Events
Poker with Professors: The USS holds an annual poker night were you get to play with some our best faculty members.

Baseball and Statistics: Baseball is a game of numbers and statistics can help use them to predict performance. The USS holds a baseball and statistics talk prior to attending a Phillies game together.

Faculty Speaker Events: Statistics is one of the most cross applicable disciplines in academia. We structure our speaker series such that students can understand the math and statistics that goes behind many applications.

How to Join
Applications will be made available during New Student Orientation, although the due date has not yet been determined. We will be recruiting for our Vice President of Membership and a number of different committee positions.

For more information or questions regarding USS, contact Michael Sklar, Executive Vice President:

sklrm@wharton.upenn.edu
The Wharton Alliance is the Ivy League's oldest pre-professional LGBT organization. The club's three main initiatives for its general body are 1) professional development, 2) corporate networking, and 3) community building.

Structure
The club consists of an executive board, a general board, and a general body. Applications to join the general board are in the fall, and the general board elects the executive board before winter break.

Events
Diversity Case Competition: With $5,000 in cash prizes and the opportunity to network with the Wharton Alliance's sponsors, about 150 students applied to compete in this collaboration between Wharton Alliance, Wharton Women, and the Wharton Undergraduate Finance Club. This was one of the largest club-run events at Wharton during the 2014-2015 academic year.

Goldman Sachs Networking Reception: Goldman Sachs, one of our perennial sponsors, sent representatives to Philadelphia to meet members of the Wharton Alliance at Distrito - a local contemporary Mexican restaurant.

How to Join
The best way to learn about our events is to join our listserv (http://www.thewartonalliance.com/contact/) and to fill out our membership survey, which will be released in the fall. We also recommend connecting with us on Facebook (The Wharton Alliance).

For more information or questions regarding The Wharton Alliance, contact David Hirschy:

Wharton Asia Exchange is a professional organization charged with bridging the gap between the university community and the business world of Asia. WAX provides a unique platform for cultural and corporate exchange with the dynamic, rapidly-evolving business environments of Japan, Singapore, Hong Kong, South Korea, Taiwan, China, Thailand, and others. Ultimately, we aim to expose high-potential, like-minded students to global opportunities for their personal and professional development.

Structure
All general body members must be part of one of WAX's seven committees. The committees are divided into External (Corporate, Professional, and Spring Trip), Internal (HR and Finance), and Communications (Journal and Marketing). Membership is roughly 65 people.

Events

Spring Trip: An annual spring break trip, planned and guided by students, to an Asian city. This Spring Break, we'll be jetting to Taipei, Taiwan. Participants tour cultural sites and corporate headquarters. Previous destinations include Seoul, Tokyo, Singapore, and Hong Kong.

Spotlight Asia Week: Each fall, WAX turns the spotlight on Asia with speaker panels, industry overviews, an introduction to recruiting for jobs in Asia, and a hands-on trading competition.

General Body Meetings: Biweekly workshops and mixers exclusive to WAX members. Speakers include professors, industry experts, and members of our extensive alumni network.

How to Join
For more information or questions regarding WAX, contact BerBer Xue, President:

Wharton Business Law Association

WBLA aims to stimulate an interest in business and law, more specifically the intersection thereof, within the Penn community in order to promote the understanding of important legal and corporate issues of today. The Association strives to advance the prestige of Penn in the realms of business and law, specifically through networking with industry-leading entrepreneurs, executives, lawyers, and academics.

Structure
The Association consists of the following structure: Executive Board, Events Committee, Finance Committee, Marketing Committee, Conference Committee, and General Membership

Events
Wharton Business Law Conference: Now in its 4th year, the Conference is the first undergraduate business law conference of its kind in the nation. Top business executives, lawyers, academics, and government officials are invited to attend from New York, Philadelphia, and Washington, D.C.

JD/MBA Panel: WBLA annually hosts the JD/MBA panel featuring Admissions directors and current students pursuing the JD/MBA track.

Recruiters & Law Schools Information Sessions: WBLA hosts a variety of Information Sessions for recruiters (ie. banks & consultancies) as well as for law schools admissions.

Legal Aspects of Entrepreneurship: WBLA hosts lawyers and entrepreneurs from the Penn and Philadelphia community to discuss the legal aspects of startups and innovation.

How to Join
WBLA will be recruiting for members in each of its Committees through mid-September.

For more information or questions regarding WBLA, contact Shashank Sirivolu or Joyve Chao, Co-Presidents:

sirivolu@sas.upenn.edu

joychao@wharton.upenn.edu
Our goals are to establish connections between Penn students and leading Chinese and American financial institutions by serving as a platform for their interaction, to develop a network of top business leaders and students from China and the United States by initiating partnerships between business and educational institutions, and to encourage the exchange of knowledge on China-related business issues by promoting opportunities at the University of Pennsylvania.

Structure

We have 5 committees in total. Each committee has a VP and director. Our general body consists of 25 people and we have a total membership of 50 people.

Events

Welcome Dinner: This annual event with food and board games is a great opportunity to catch up with friends before the new year.

China Week: During this week, WCA hosts different Chinese culture workshop and panels. The week will culminate in China Night, which will showcase the many talents of Penn's Chinese student body.

How to Join

For more information or questions regarding Wharton China Association, contact Caelyn Nuo Xu:

As Penn’s undergraduate professional organization dedicated to Europe, we have three goals: 1) To expand Penn’s business network in Europe: we want to make it as easy to meet and work with alumni in London or Istanbul as it is in New York. 2) To help Penn students from Europe work at the best firms in the US. 3) To connect Penn students with Europe’s employers and universities.

Structure
Wharton Europe is a project-based organization. Apply to the Board as a whole rather than be restricted to a committee with a narrow scope. This lets you drive the projects you truly care about, from guest lectures to trips and more. Vice-Presidents are there to guide you where necessary, but leave you free reign to lead as part of the Board and create value for our over 350 members.

Events
Europe Week: our annual event series engages over half our members with offerings ranging from workshops with MBAs and undergraduates at top firms to cultural social events.

Spring Break Trip (2014: Berlin and Prague): we travel to Europe every year with a small group of students to experience its most dynamic and historically rich cities.

Transatlantic Ambitions: we partnered with the Swedish Chamber of Commerce in this panel featuring leading professionals who shared advice about how to both be successful and travel the world.

How to Join
General membership is open to anyone interested in one or more of the three parts of our mission. Just sign up to our email list at http://whartoneurope.eu/join-us/ and get to know us at our events. If you want to get more involved, we will be recruiting for Board positions this semester. Opportunities to learn more will be announced by email.

The Wharton Hedge Fund Club is an undergraduate, student run organization aimed at students interested in expanding their experience and knowledge of the hedge fund industry. WHFC seeks to educate its members on various aspects of the industry, connect them with industry leaders, and assist them in finding professional opportunities. Through events such as speaker series, investor conferences, and site visits, WHFC introduces the community to hedge funds and the people who run them.

Structure

There is one President, two Executive VPs, one Treasurer, 4 VPs (one for every committee), and a varying number of committee members. There are 4 committees within WHFC: Outreach, Events, Operations, and Technology. There are over 100 general body members. Certain events will only be open to board members so application to join the board is highly encouraged.

Events

Tiger Management & Arrowgrass Capital Partners Site Visit: Students were able to travel to NYC and visit the offices of legendary hedge fund Tiger Management and Arrowgrass. Students spoke to principals and discussed investing ideas over lunch.

GoldenTree Asset Management Investor Meeting: Students attended the investor conference of a major credit hedge fund. Students heard from many partners and principals about different credit strategies.

Karen Finerman: Students attended a talk given by a hedge fund manager and CNBC. She shared her story and advice for people entering finance.

How to Join

Applications will be made available by the end of September and will be due a week after they are published. We will be recruiting for new board members. We will take candidates for committees including outreach and events. For general body membership, please inquire at Clubbing Night or email whfc.board@wharton.upenn.edu.

For more information or questions regarding WHFC, contact Charlie Serota, President: cserota@wharton.upenn.edu
The Wharton International Business Review is the premier undergraduate publication from the University of Pennsylvania’s Wharton School. IBR features internationally relevant articles written by University of Pennsylvania undergraduates and interviews with international business executives. With every issue, we aim to bring a global vision to the business world. We publish our print edition once each semester and release online content year round at www.whartonibr.com. We have been widely recognized within the Penn publishing and Wharton communities. IBR was the 2015 Penn Publications Cooperative winner of Best Magazine, Best Interview, and Best Feature Article. IBR also won the 2015 WeCAN award for Best Small Club at Wharton.

Structure

IBR consists of a general board and several teams divided by function. Our main teams are as follows: 1) print writing, 2) online writing, 3) design, 4) business, and 5) event marketing & social media. Since we are a work product, we do not have a true "general body," unlike many other clubs.

Events

Escaping Corporate America Lecture by Kunal Mehta: IBR teamed up with three other Wharton clubs to bring Disruptors author Kunal Mehta to campus. A fellow business writer, Kunal shared anecdotes and insights about transitioning from investment banking to startups.

Autumn / Winter 2014 Launch Event: IBR and friends enjoyed snacks at University City's William Street Common to celebrate the distribution of our A/W '14 issue. The event was free to all and provided a forum to discuss the content of the issue.

Tap House Year-End Social: In celebration of IBR's 2015 PubCo and WeCAN wins, IBR and friends took over the patio of Tap House on the last day of classes.

How to Join

Getting involved with IBR is simple. Interested individuals can message IBR on Facebook (Wharton International Business Review), join us at Wharton Clubbing Night, or find us at the SAC Activities Fair. In case of conflicts, please also feel free to email David at:

WITG’s mission is to familiarize students with investing through a hands on educational experience. Our unique Development Team helps to teach basic concepts and investment philosophies to incoming freshmen. The team provides new members with foundational concepts that will allow them to excel in our club and beyond. It is supplemented by our Investment Team structure for advanced members. Overall, we believe our club’s structure allows us to provide the best investing education at Penn.

Structure

WITG has around 500 general members that are engaged with the club at some level. Our committees, referred to as Investment Teams, present research at a number of Sunday meetings throughout the semester. We also have the Development Team for new members.

Events

Howard Marks Lecture: The Howard Marks lecture was one of the hallmark events for WITG. It was the flagstone lecture of the Howard Marks lecture series, which brought in a variety of Wall Street veterans.

Dodge and Cox Case Competition: The D&C Case Competition was an investing competition that helped our members to take their ideas and receive real, honest feedback from a panel of experienced judges.

Moore Capital: WITG hosted Richard Axilrod, the Managing Director of Moore Capital. This event was an exciting opportunity to meet an experienced Wall Street veteran and hear his insights.

How to Join

We will be recruiting for the Development Team, Investing Teams and Junior Board.

For more information or questions regarding WITG, contact Michelle Liao, President:

The Wharton Management Club (WMC) is a student-run organization that seeks to expose the undergraduate community to opportunities within the field of management, both inside the classroom and beyond. To do so, our club hosts speakers, professional networking sessions, professor luncheons, and experiential learning events. Since management is not confined to a particular industry or field, our club aims to touch upon a broad sphere of interests through a diverse set of events.

Structure

Our club consists of an eight-member board, three committees, and a general body. The committees plan and execute events and publish a newsletter. All committees participated in our Applied Management Program (AMP), which seeks to expose members to real-life management situations through case study analysis.

Events

Danny Meyer Speaker Event: WMC collaborated with the Wharton Retail and Wharton Travel & Hospitality Clubs to host Danny Meyer, the founder of Shake Shack and CEO of Union Square Hospitality.

Howard Marks Speaker Event: WMC collaborated with the Wharton Investing Trading Group and the Wharton Dean’s office to host Howard Marks, the founder of Oaktree Capital, a leading value-oriented asset management firm.

The Man Behind the World’s Most Important Structures: WMC hosted Eugene Kohn, a world-renowned architect who, apart from designing Huntsman Hall, designed the MoMA, the Pinnacle, and Hudson Yards.

How to Join

We will be recruiting for committee positions at the beginning of the next school year. Details regarding the recruiting process will be available on our website (www.whartonmanagementclub.com) over the summer.

We work to expose students to the systems, innovation, and impact creation imparted by pioneering industrial companies in their supply chains. By bringing executives to campus, or taking "career treks" to businesses themselves, we connect students with employees and executives of various industrial companies, inspiring them to consider careers in the supply chain verticals of those firms.

Structure

Our club has five committees focused on different industries: manufacturing and retail, food, TMT, energy and transportation, and healthcare. Each of those committees has a VP, and those VPs report to the president. Our listserv has over 1,500 students who we invite to attend all of our events.

Events

Annual Conference: We invite nine of the top supply chain executives at leading companies to join us for three one-hour panels followed by a dessert networking reception.

Career Treks: In recent years we have traveled to Amazon, Rent the Runway, Le Pain Quotidien, and the Septa Control Center to see their supply chains in action.

Lecture Series: We invite speakers who are supply chain experts in various industries to join us for smaller events that foster interaction between the speakers and audience members.

How to Join

We will be holding a GBM and accepting applications to join the board. We are looking to add members to all five committees! Details will be posted on our website: http://www.whartonsupplychainorganization.org

The purpose of the Wharton Alumni Relations Council (WARC) is to promote interaction between undergraduate students and Wharton alumni. We encourage undergraduate students to take advantage of the resources that the alumni network can provide both now, during undergraduate years, and after graduation. A major goal is to set up traditions that alumni and students alike will want to follow and proactively seek out.

Structure

WARC is a self-selecting, student-run organization. The Council is comprised of four students from each class year, and members are organized into committees that are charged with planning and executing our various events and initiatives. WARC’s board structure is flat, with members of all class years holding equal responsibility within the organization. Each year, two Co-Chairs and two Executive Members are chosen by the Council.

Events

Annual Alumni Colloquia: At the beginning of each year, WARC brings a handful of diverse alumni back to Huntsman Hall to speak with current undergraduates about how they’ve put their Wharton degrees to work.

Alumni Lunch Series: WARC invites interesting alumni from a variety of fields to speak with students over lunch several times each semester.

Senior Reception: Senior Reception is a special event held each spring for Wharton’s graduating class. It gives seniors the chance to share a toast with faculty and bid farewell to the many friends they have made over their years at Wharton.

How to Join

Each year, we recruit four creative, dedicated, diverse freshmen to hold four-year positions on the Council. If you are interested in promoting interactions and fostering connections between alumni and students, you should consider applying to WARC. We look forward to reading your application and meeting you!

Wharton Ambassadors

Wharton Ambassadors is a student organization that works closely with Wharton Undergraduate Division administrators to conduct information sessions for prospective students and families, contributes to admitted student event management, and participates in high school outreach. As the “face” of the Wharton Undergraduate Program, Wharton Ambassadors uphold and represent the Wharton brand and provide input on marketing and communications.

Structure
Wharton Ambassadors consists of an executive board (7) and general body members (60). Each Vice President has his or her own committee, which consists of about 10-12 general body members.

Events
Penn Previews: This is WHAMB’s most important event and consists of organizing on campus events for admitted students in February and April.

Information Sessions: Wharton Ambassadors conduct daily information sessions for prospective students and their families to provide them with an overview of the Wharton Undergraduate experience.

Email-a-Thon: Wharton Ambassadors contact admitted students upon their acceptance in January and March.

How to Join
Applications will be made available on September 1 and due on September 14. We will be accepting applications for general body members.

The Wharton Dean's Undergraduate Advisory Board is a student-run organization sponsored by the Wharton Undergraduate Division that works closely with the administration to generate and implement academic initiatives that have a positive impact on the learning environment and enhance the Wharton undergraduate experience.

Structure
There are typically 20 members on WAB, including two Co-Chairs tasked with handling administrative duties. Board structure is flat, meaning all members receive equal responsibility, despite seniority.

Events
Senior Capstone: The Capstone course is a 4-day elective option for seniors in which students compete in teams to solve real world business challenges using skills acquired throughout their Wharton education.

Management 100: Management 100 as conceived by WAB in 1989 to provide freshmen with a common, teamwork-based and application-oriented introduction to the practical study of business.

Social Impact Concentration: This secondary concentration gives students the tools to consider how business thinking should be engaged to improve society through a dedicated curriculum.

Wharton Council Traditions

In addition to acting as the umbrella organization for Wharton undergraduate clubs, Wharton Council also hosts annual traditions designed to bring the undergraduate body closer together and foster community building experiences. Each of these traditions is described below.

Business of Life Lecture
The Business of Life Lecture is an opportunity for Wharton professors and other acclaimed speakers to share with the undergraduate students their life journey, words of wisdom, and what they believe is the Business of Life. Past speakers include Dean Thomas Robertson, Professor Richard Shell, Professor Adam Grant, and Philadelphia Mayor Michael Nutter.

Clubbing Night
Clubbing Night is the annual showcase of all Wharton Council clubs. This event creates a forum for students to engage with the 40+ Wharton Council recognized and trial clubs.

Hostile Takeover
The Gamemaster and Wharton Council present Hostile Takeover, a game of assassins, to the Wharton community. Each year, 300+ students, staff, and faculty participate in this tradition to eliminate their designated targets and make the Final Boardroom, competing for great prizes along the way.

Senior Reception
Senior Reception is a special event only for Wharton Seniors. It gives seniors the chance to share a toast with Wharton’s faculty and bid farewell to the many friends they have made over their years at the school.

Wharton Club Recruiting 101
Wharton Club Recruiting 101 is the follow-up event to Clubbing Night. Join Wharton Council and club leaders as we explain how students can get involved in clubs and discuss student life at Wharton.

Wharton Undergraduate Leadership Forum
The Wharton Undergraduate Leadership Forum (WULF) is an annual conference for Wharton club leaders to meet each other, to learn from faculty speakers, and to create new partnerships. This event fosters an environment of collaboration and cooperation among the leaders of the Wharton undergraduate community.

Wharton 5K Run
The Wharton UGR & MBA Charity 5K Race is the first Wharton Council tradition that brings together the undergraduate and graduate Wharton student bodies and allows the entire Wharton community to engage in some friendly competition. All proceeds from the 5K are donated to that year’s charity.
